Jennifer Lauria takes a client-centered approach to insurance defense, ensuring open communication and effective strategies tailored to each case.

Jennifer is a detail-oriented attorney who aligns her legal strategies with her clients' needs. At Zausmer, she handles insurance defense litigation, including first- and third-party no-fault claims, property loss disputes, and recreational boating accidents.

Jennifer's approach starts with evaluating the broader context of a case before focusing on the key details that lead to effective resolutions. Her adaptability, shaped by diverse legal experience, helps her navigate complex cases efficiently, always keeping her clients' goals in focus.

Clients value Jennifer's ability to balance strategic thinking with practical solutions. She keeps her clients engaged throughout the process, ensuring their input is integrated into the case strategy and that they remain informed every step of the way.

Following in the footsteps of her father and uncles and inspired by firefighters' passionate involvement with their communities, Jennifer is training to become a part-time firefighter. When she's not in the office, Jennifer enjoys staying active at the gym, competing in Spartan races, and slow Sundays filled with watching football and reading psychological thrillers.
